Contest Rules

CONTEST RULES FOR PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Work is an important part of life, but no job is worth getting hurt over. Workplace injuries happen in a heartbeat but the resulting injuries can have a lasting impact on your ability to do the things you like to do.

The contest challenges high school students to use their creativity to develop an original video to illustrate to young workers the importance of working safely and speaking up about your workplace safety rights and responsibilities.

Contestants can submit videos starting February 1, 2018 until the contest closes on March 30, 2018 at 11:59 p.m., Atlantic Daylight Saving Time.

Who Can Enter...

The contest is open to all Prince Edward Island high school students

Please note: Employees of provincial or federal workers' compensation boards, the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health & Safety (CCOHS) and their immediate family members are not eligible.*

The following are the rules for all contestants:

4. Contestants must indicate on the entry form that the video submission is an entirely original work by the contestant or his/her team and must grant contest organizers unrestricted use and reproduction rights for any purposes. Any and all such permissions, licenses, clearances, releases, waivers of moral rights and approvals must be attached to the video submission.
